RAILROADS*ERIE MAY SPAN THE CONTINENT

Plans to Cross Lake Michigan by Ferry and With Wisconsin Central and Great Northern Reach Coast.

Milwaukee dispatches announce that the Erie Railroad, which has contracted to absorb the Great Central, is arranging to run a line from Paulsboro, New Jersey, with the Wisconsin Central and the Great Northern. Other reports come from Milwaukee to the effect that the Erie is believed to have some interest in the plans of the Great Northern to extend its railroad. Reports from the East renew indications of the Erie's purpose to obtain St. Louis terminals for its Great Central.

Whether the Erie aims to extend the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton from Springfield or whether it desires to acquire the line from St. Paul is not said. Some consider it is at both ideas by railroad men. Conditions which facilitated the absorption of the Great Central exist, in a measure, with regard to some lower lines in Lake, and it is believed that the opening of negotiations for the purchase of this line by some large system is a matter of a comparatively short time.

Furtherance of the plan to make the Erie a transcontinental system has been accomplished, says a Milwaukee dispatch. New York, Oct. 11.—John D. Morgan, president of Eastern Lines, and G. M. Cumming, president of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of New York, have been elected to the board of Directors of the Wisconsin Central.

The Erie has made arrangements which will enable it to extend from Milwaukee to the western shore of Lake Michigan. Car ferries will enable it to cross the lake to Milwaukee and Manitowoc, and then connect with the Wisconsin Central to reach St. Paul and Askania, connecting with the Great Northern lines for the Pacific Coast. Coupled with this statement was the official announcement of sale of the controlling interest in the Wisconsin Central.

According to Allegations of J. H. Ames's Divorce Petition His Married Life of Fifteen Years Was Unhappy.

MISSOURI PACIFIC TO BUILD DEPOT ON BIDDLE STREET.

First of Several Freight Houses in Neighborhood Will Cost $40,000.

Joseph H. Ames, assistant to the manager of the American Car and Foundry Company, filed a divorce suit against his ex-wife yesterday, alleging that unkindness between him and his wife Geraldine began on the evening of their marriage and was the way to take a train for their wedding tour.

The marriage took place June 23, 1900, at Adrian, Mich. The bridal tour was abandoned because of her illness. She was jealous and irritable, and a month after the marriage quarreled with him, he advised.

They went to housekeeping two years after being married. He had to give his own breakfast, his wife remaining in bed until noon. He kept house, and she did most of the time on account of his wife's temper, he alleges.

She struck him and accused him of trying to get rid of her, he says.

She refused to take medicine which he purposed for her when she was ill, and procured a fresh supply of medicine from another doctor, he states.

When he would return home from work tired and wanting to rest and rest, she would request that he take her to bed again.

When he would release her she would quarrel for hours, and on one occasion she quarreled all night.

He says he went to bed at one time in account of her jealousy.

In 1901 she received a present of a set of silver from her husband, he says.

Before marriage he used to sing in church choir and afterwards had charge of a choir. His wife took office in the choir, he says, and he was compelled to withdraw from the church and annoyed him until he gave up the choir, he states.
